Content ideas for DCT Sections

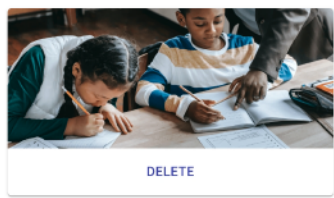

1 Featured Image

The Feature Image is responsive and can behave like a banner when viewing on a desktop browser.

 Please view documentation on Images & The Safe Zone.*

Featured Image

If a featured image is added, the page title will appear over top of the image. If no image is added, we recommend added the title in the intro section or at the top of the first content section.

SAVE

2 Intro Section

This section will appear as the 1st title and paragraph of on your page.

You should always place the most important content here. Readers scan pages, you don't want them to miss your main idea.

Intro Section

This section will appear styled differently at the top of the page. We recommend sticking to a paragraph at most and adding the rest of the content to content sections below.

3 Content Sections

You will be able to create multiple content sections here. These Content sections allow you to choose various alignment styles for your text, images and video. They are a great way to break down large amounts of text and divide your content to make it easier for your readers to scan.

 If you decide to start your page with a Content Section instead of a Intro Section, be sure to add your most important content in the 1st section.*

Content Sections

Fill out as many or as few of the fields as you like for each content section. If you would like to create 2 buttons right after one another, you can create a content section for each button. Optionally copy and paste the following characters to help format lists and content: • » « ← → ✓ ✕ ★ •
